Apocalypse Now: The Lion Roars
“Laodicea: Lukewarm”
Revelation 3:14-22
Wayne Shelton

Focal, v20a: ‘Behold, I stand at the door and knock...’

In Christ’s message to the church at Laodicea from the book of Revelation 3:14-22, he comes to wake up the church as he notes his serious disgust in the words, ‘Because you are lukewarm...I will spit you out of my mouth’ (3:16). And yet, in his grace and mercy, Christ holds out hope for Laodicea. There is a way for her to be healed. He presents the remedy by directing the Laodiceans to do three things that he outlines. But will this self-reliant, self-indulgent church respond?
