Apocalypse Now: The Lion Roars
“Sweet and Sour”
Revelation 10:1-11
Wayne Shelton

The two visions of chapters 10 and 11 provide us with an interlude (parenthesis) before the cataclysmic description of the Day of Judgment which is signaled by the blowing of the seventh trumpet (11:15). This provides John with the motivation and challenge to continue as a faithful herald of God’s truth. In particular, chapter 10 speaks of a re-commissioning of the apostle to the work of prophetic ministry. There are times when even the greatest of God’s servants need a word of encouragement to continue!
