Apocalypse Now: The Lion Roars
“The Seven Bowls Emptied”
Revelation 15:5-16:21
Wayne Shelton

focal, 16:16

Anglican scholar N. T. Wright tells of an encounter with a former tutor while Wright was working on his doctoral dissertation. Both were out cycling on a day off, and the tutor asked Wright how his research on the doctrine of justification was going. ‘Actually,’ he confessed, ‘I’m having a hard time with wrath.’ ‘Aren’t we all!’ the tutor said cheerfully and rode off on his bicycle.

In Revelation 15:5-16:21, we see the seven bowls of wrath being emptied upon a godless world. This all builds up toward the climactic battle of Armageddon.
