John 8:31-38 (focus: v36)

What is freedom? Or, more particularly, what does the Bible mean by freedom? At this point we can hardly escape either the question or the answer, for our text this week in John 8:31-38 involves a statement in which Jesus claimed to be able to set men free. His exact words were, "So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed" (John 8:36). From what and for what are we set free?
